If I could visit one place i would like to visit Mexico. These are my three reasons why.

First, I would like to visit Mexico because I would like to go hunting and see all of the different kinds of animals and see how they are different from the animals we have.

Secondly, I would like to visit Mexico to see how their culture is different from ours. I would also like to talk to the people on the other hand. So I can speak to them and ask them questions about their customs.

Third, I would like to go visit Mexico because I would like to see different things. One of the things I would like to see is how they make there homes. Then I would like to see how they learn and what they learn and how they learn it.

In conclusion, if I could visit one place I would like to visit Mexico. These are my three reasons why I would like to visit Mexico. Where would you like to visit and why?

Score Point: 3

This response reflects a limited degree of proficiency in expository writing skills. The writer selects Mexico as a place to visit and provides reasons to support this choice (to go hunting, to see how their culture is different from ours, and to see different things). Although the response is organized, further development of the key ideas would be required for a higher score. In addition, a pattern of errors in mechanics and sentence structure is displayed.
